"ORCHID PROJECT" CASTS NEW IMAGES OF NATURE

Atlanta, GA – Brintons custom carpet designer Rebecca Johnstone has created an impressive new collection of designs in "ORCHID PROJECT", the newest addition to Brintons' popular Studio Influence custom design series.

Brintons developed the Studio Influence series to showcase the exceptional talent of its designers working in Brintons Design Studios throughout the world. The purpose of each addition is to inspire and encourage innovative designs in carpet for hospitality and other commercial venues.

For Ms. Johnstone, a native of Australia, now with Brintons New York Design Studio, the Spider and Dragon orchids provided the inspiration for her collection of carpet patterns.

"These native Australian orchids are delicate and majestic, yet rarely seen. On the list of critically-endangered flora, their long elegant petals buttress out from creature-like stamens. Through Deco design techniques, I've endeavored to capture something of their essence."

The distinctive Deco styling of "ORCHID PROJECT" provide a reference point for high contrast color combinations as well as the contrasting forms of angle and curve. The color palette also reflects the drama of this exotic Orchid lineage, including crimson, turquoise, mustard and purple on backgrounds of deep darks and misty neutrals. However, these custom designs may be re-colored to match any project requirements.
